Wind, Hail, and Rain on All Sides Serious Damage Done.

Sioux City, Iowa, April 22 .- A terrible cyclone swept over the country east and west of this city at half-past 3 Sunday afternoon, entering the State above the Missouri Valley junction, passing northeasterly across to Storm Lake, Pomeroy, and Fonda. In Monona county trees were torn up by the roots. The house of J. R. Thurston was wrecked completely. A wing of the house of Mrs. Reiley was struck and torn to pieces, and P. Reiley, standing in the wing, was picked up, carried over the main buildings and over some trees near by, and set down uninjured.

J. J. Hughes's house, in the same neighborhood, was entirely destroyed. The family were away from home. The force of the storm was terrific, destroying fences, uprooting trees, overturning corn-cribs, &c. Horses and cattle were picked up and carried a considerable distance. Near Orawa the house of Mr. White was destroyed and its contents scattered for miles. The family, fortunately, were away. The track of the storm was half a mile to a mile and a half wide. Very heavy hail accompanied the wind-storm. A man, a double team of horses, wagon, and harness, were taken up bodily and carried several yards and set down uninjured. On the Illinois Central railroad, east of here, the damage is more serious, accompanied by loss of life. A whirlwind or tornado passed over Storm Lake from the southwest, three quarters of a mile east of the town. The residence of Alfred King was struck and ville, Greensboro', and Charlotte. The dellifted from its foundation and dashed into thousands of pieces. Mr. King's mother was instantly killed. She was found some distance from where the house stood. The other members of the household escaped. Trees in orchards were torn up and carried e house of Mr. DeGraff, half a mile from King's, was unroofed, and some mental church elected for the ensuing year, lungs, 1 white; consumption, 3 colored; Those who knew him best say his hand was hogs and cattle killed. STORM LAKE, IOWA, April 22 .- A windstorm did serious damage here yesterday. Several persons in this vicinity are reported to have been killed. WALL LAKE, IOWA, April 22 .- A fierce tornado struck this town yesterday, destroyterrible rain- and hail-storm struck this city, the bail-stones being of a prodigious size. One was measured, and was said to be eight inches in circumference. Much glass was broken, and many fruit-trees were badly damaged. At Buda, east of here, houses and stocks of goods were damaged by the instant says: "A party of gentlemen and ladies, including several prominent business-men, witnessed a trial of the electric light at the establishment of the Union Steel-Screw Company last evening. The apparatus used has been constructed for the illumination of a large carpet-mill in Philadelphia, to which place it will be shipped this week. It consists of a Brush dynamoelectric machine of 12,000-candle power, arranged to give four separate currents, each running an electric lamp of 3,000candle power. Two of the lamps were placed on the third and two on the fourth floor of the immense building, and when the engine was started up the machine started at the same time, and, without the slightest manual interference, the lamps rooms were flooded with a pure white light the city placed the nor-resident dealers on at all the windows, illuminating houses and streets for a long distance in every direction. The light was very uniform and steady, free from the flickering that used to be an accompaniment of the electric light, and, considering the enormous illuminating power, the light was unexpectedly soft and endurable to the eyes. An opportunity was afforded | confer together in order to decide whether to test the character and whiteness of the light. Worsteds, scarfs, afghans, &c., of brilliant shades, were hanging against the wall at one side of the room, and it was noticed that the colors were brought out as clearly as by the full light of the sun. CUSSED-THE BISHOPS TO PRESIDE IN TURN. The ninth session of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, will convene in Atlanta, Ga., on Wednesday, 1st day of May, 1878. This Conference is composed of representatives from all the annual conferences under the jurisdiction of the southern department of INDICATIONS FOR To-DAY .- For the South | the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States.

The body is made up of clerical and lay ed by rising barometer, cooler southwest to representatives, in equal numbers, presided over by the bishops in turn from day to day. Bishop Paine, who is the senior bishop, will preside on the first day. Bishops Kavanaugh, Pierce, Wightman. Doggett, Mc-Tyeire, and Keener, will follow in the presidency of the Conference, each in turn. The whole number of delegates is not less than three hundred. This great Church council is held quadrennially, and is the only law-making council of the Church. A large amount of business is necessarily to be transacted by such a body, legislating, as it does, for a great Church, extending over such a breadth of territory. .

The following names constitute the list of delegates from the Virginia Conferenceviz.: Clerical delegates-Rev. W. W. Bennett, D. D., president of Randolph-Macon College; Rev. Leroy M. Lee, D. D., presiding elder of the Richmond district; Rev. P. A. Peterson, pastor Main-Street church. in Danville; Rev. John E. Edwards, D. D., pastor of Park-Place church in this city; Rev. R. N. Sledd, pastor of Centenary church, Richmond; Rev. J. D. Blackwell, D. D., presiding elder of the Lynchburg district; Rev. Lemuel S. Reed, presiding elder of the Norfolk district; and Rev. Paul Whitehead, president of the Farmville Female College. The reserve lelegates are: Rev. John C. Granbery, D. D., Rev. E. P. Wilson, and Rev. A. G.

The lay delegates are George M. Bain, Jr., Esq., of Portsmouth; Thomas Branch, Esq., of Richmond; Professor F. M. Smith, L.L. D., of the University of Virginia; John R. Pace, Esq., of Danville; H. W. Murray, Esq., of Louisa Courthouse; Colo- and Luther Baker. Place of voting: Twynel Hamlin, of Dinwiddie county; T. W. man's carpenter-shop, Grace street between Mason, Esq., of Garysburg, N. MARTIN LUTHER AND JOHN JASPER .- Rev. John Jasper has a prototype in his belief and argument in so famous a man as the reformer Martin Luther, who, in his Table Talk, thus summarily disposes of the then newly-promulgated theory of the mischievous and heretical Copernicus:

"I am now advised that a new astrologer is risen who presumeth to prove that the earth moveth and goeth about-not the firmament; the sun and moon, not the stars-like as when one sitteth in a coach or in a ship that is moved thinketh he sitteth still and resteth; but the earth and trees do move and run themselves. Thus it goethwhen we give up ourselves to our own foolish fancies and conceits. This fool (Copernicus) will turn the whole art of astronomy upside down; but the Scriptures showeth and teacheth another lesson when Joshua commanded the sun to stand still and not the earth."

Mr. Jacob A. Levy, an old merchant, honored citizen, and strict religionist of the Jewish Church, died at his residence, on Broad street opposite the African church, at about half-past 7 o'clock yesterday morning. He had been an invalid from partial paralysis for two years, but seemed to be dowhich disease he died. The record of his life is that of a man thoroughly devoted to kindly in his dealings with all, and charitable in an unusual degree, and yet immovably opposed to all innovations upon ancient thoroughly identified with our interests, and felt a deep concern in all that affected which he had made and distinguished for probity and fair-dealing as a merchant for half a century. He saw Richmond grow from a town into a city, and he watched its progress with pride and confidence. His associations were with our best men, many of whom have passed away and bequeathed to posterity inheritances of precious memories, and all of whom recognized in Mr. Levy an upright and good man. The deceased was born in Amsterdam, Holland, on the 9th of May, 1804. He emigrated to America with his parents, when eight years old, and landed in Boston, where his parents lived for several years. In 1818, ever afterwards. His father was Abraham Levy, who established himself in the drygoods business on Main street near the Old was always on Main street, but not always in the same building. It was, however, generally not far from the market. The deccased and his brother Isaac A. succeeded Abraham Levy in business, under the firmname of Jacob A. Levy & Brother. Isaac A.
